The Woodlands, TX (Tuesday, January 18, 2011) – On Monday, January 10, 2011, The South County Community Clinic dba Interfaith Community Clinic received a donation of $100,000 from the Memorial Hermann Community Benefit Corporation.

“The Interfaith Community Clinic is important to us,” said Steve Sanders, Chief Executive Officer of Memorial Hermann The Woodlands Hospital. “We are extremely proud of the success of the clinic, as it acts as a wonderful asset for our community and for those in time of great need.”

Memorial Hermann has had a long standing relationship with the clinic since the clinic’s inception in 1996.

“We have had relations since the beginning,” shared Sanders. “There are not many clinics like this around to serve the middle class, working poor, and we are proud to support the work they do for our community.”

Ann Snyder, President of Interfaith of The Woodlands and Interfaith Community Clinic, added, “We are extremely grateful for the support of Memorial Hermann, and could not do what we do without them. We look forward to providing healthcare to the underserved in our community.”

The Interfaith Community Clinic provides basic dental care, medical care, counseling and social services to individuals who are in need and uninsured living in our community. For more information about the Community Clinic view www.communityclinic.net.
